

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A new distinct cultivar of Tatarian Maple tree named 'GarAnn', characterized by its upright, outwardly spreading and rounded plant habit; strong and nearly horizontal branch angles; attractive fall foliage coloration; and vibrant red-colored samara that retain their coloration for about six weeks.